18th St. and Fennsylvania Ave. The Republic Bureau, Washington, June 19.—In view of the probable defeat of the Cuban reciprocity bill, it seems reasonably certain that the move-

The resolution presented by Schatch Eikins proceeds on the theory that Cuba desires annexation and gives the sanction of Congress that the territory belonging to Cuba may be erected into a new State on certain conditions, including the ratification by Congress of the Constitution of the new State, the ceding by it to the Union of all public property and the making of certain arrangements for the payments of the debts and liabilities of the said republic. SNYDER SEEKS A LOOPHOLE.

Thinks He Is Immune From Bribery Prosecution.

Mr. Snyder contends that he has lived in Kansas City continuously.

> What shall be the inscriptions on buildings of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, and by whom will they be supplied? were questions asked Director of Works Taylor yes terday by Ezekiel Smith of Smith & Eastman, who have the contract for the staff work on the Textiles building. All the pieces have been completed except the blocks of staff which are to bear the in-

As presented to Director Taylor the subject has several phases. Shall a writer or a scientist be requested to supply the inscriptions? Shall the architect be the judge of the property of the phrases or mottoes? Shall they be all English or will other languages have representation? Shall the inscriptions be selections from existing writings, or shall they be original?

Mr. Taylor says that in his opinion persens versed in the science with which the building deals should select or prepare the inscriptions for them. He advises that the men who have written on the various subjects for the Encyclopedia Britannica be requested to furnish the inscriptions.

the proposition, and, according to the senti-ments which were expressed this after-noon, the whole party in the State is of the same mind. It would be folly for a mithe same mind. It would be folly for a mi-nority party to nominate a candidate." Major Bittinger was equally emphatic. "It is being sprung on the party at a late date, and the candidates have not a chance to canvass for the nomination. I am against Republicans taking any action in the con-vention."

requoneans taking any action in the convention."

Charlie Morris of Trenton was of the same opinion. "I do not think it will even be mentioned in the State Convention." he remarked, after Mr. Rozier had cautioned him against giving out the names of those percent in the conference. "It would be foolish in the extreme. Nothing has arisen to justify such a course."

Doctor M. M. Campbell of Albany, a member of the State Committee, took the same stand, staring that it was an unusual proceeding not calculated to add any strength to the ticket. And so on down the line.

All of the above sentiments came out in the conference. The discussion of the exact number of delegates on whom the bosses could count was evidently satisfactory to Colozel Kerens.

There was much that did not come out in the core size. Since the retirement of Colonel by the National Committee man has be allittle less than desperate. The unexpected announcement of the programme which he had marked out for the State convertion aroused so much adverse comment throughout the State that his supporters outside of he Postmasters, were slipping away from dim.

The conference yest of y way the last chance to save the six it is probable that it will be successful. He has a liberal amount of railroad transportation which is being distributed to eve, man who is willing to enlist under his banners. Kerens Evidently Satisfied. it is enist under his banners.

It is said that he has given up hopes of nstalling Howard Gray of Carthage, a relative of Colonel Pheips, as vice chairman of he State Committee. The proposed Excutive Committee of five members, three of he appointed by himself, has been abandoned.

All of these concessions have been made to prevent any action by the State Convention on the senatorship. If he can persuade the convention to mass that question by he will be credited with a signal victory. He probably will be successful and thus be in a position to control his share of the State patronage. If any man other than himself is nominated he will be practically eliminated from Missouri politics.

Both factions in St. Joseph have been busy since the County Convention, when fifty-six delegates walked out because they could not stand for the cut-and-dried deal which the "Silks" had prepared before-hand. Evidence of crookedness on both sides will be ready in abundance. The whole story of how the primaries were carried recently will be told by affidavits, if the State Convention will stand still and listen.

Tuesday will be one of the most sensational in the history of the party in this State if all the fights which are going on under cover are permitted to come to the surface. Not the least of these is the contest in this county which will be carried on the floor of the convention if at all possible.

It is likely that the stirring scenes of the State Convention in St. Joseph in 1896, when the doors of the Crawford Theater were locked by order of Major Bittinger and a battering ram was applied by the infuriated Filleyites, will be re-enacted.

A conference participated in by Major Bittinger of Montreal, formerly of St. Joseph. C. D. Morris of Trenton, E. E. McJimsey of Maryville, John E. Swanger of Milan, was held here last Sunday, at which plans to forestall the contest from Buchanan County at the State Convention of the Silks to crush the other faction entirely and wipe it from the face of the political map.
